

INSIDE STORY OF SINCLAIR GIFT TOLD

campaign debt with the 1924 campaign coming on.

BONDS PEDDLED
In desperation, Hays then went to several wealthy men of the party and asked them to take over the remaining bonds from Sinclair. He is said to have seen Mellon, Butler, former Secretary of War John W. Weeks, the late John T. Pratt of New York, Senator T. Coleman DuPont of Delaware, and others.

Mellon has announced he refused to accept $50,000 which Hays wanted him to take. Pratt took $50,000, DuPont handled $75,000, and Weeks absorbed $25,000.

BONDS TURNED BACK
Butler's action in the matter is not known. Some of the men are said to have taken the bonds at first and then when the Teapot Dome investigation later began making exposures, turned them back.

More details about the final disposition of the bonds may be learned from the hearings tomorrow when Butler, Hays, and perhaps Mellon will take the stand.

HAYS SUMMONED
Hays is being summoned for questioning about why he did not reveal his transaction with Mellon the last time he was on the stand. Mellon may be requested to testify under oath to the facts he related in his letter Saturday night to Senator Walsh of the investigating committee.

In his letter Mellon says Hays sent him $50,000 of the bonds, but he would not take them, and sent them back to Hays, with a $50,000 contribution.

BORAH TAKES STAND
While those facts were being developed, Senator Borah of Idaho wrote Butler on March 5, asking Butler to start a movement to raise $100,000 so that Sinclair could be repaid all the money he had given the party.

"The whole transaction, even the payment to the representative of the party, had in view an ulterior and sinister purpose," Borah told Butler. "We cannot in self-respect or in justice to the voters in the party keep the money."

URGES SI EASE
Borah suggested that Republicans throughout the country be requested to pay $1 each to a fund.

The United Press learned that Butler sent an answer to Borah recently, Borah declined to give out the letter, saying he expected Butler would make it public later. It is understood that Butler's answer does not take kindly to Borah's suggestion.

Dependancy

IT IS SAID that of one hundred persons living at the age of sixty-five years, eighty-five are dependent on others.

Dependancy in old age sometimes is the result of thoughtlessness and improvidence, but illness and other misfortunes may also contribute to it.

Much misery in later years can be avoided by opening a savings account now in the American Trust Company and faithfully pursuing a systematic savings policy.

Four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, increases the deposits to a surprising degree.

SINGLE UNDERGARMENT MAKES MODERN GIRL LOOK SLIM

NEW BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

"A Pilgrimage to Palestine"

Written by Dr. Harry E. Fosdick, the pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church of New York, this book differs from the usual book on the Holy Land. Beginning with two introductory chapters on the geographical setting and historical background he makes the reader follow from the Hebrews at Sinai to the modern Zionists at the successive eras of Palestine's history as they were illustrated by his own pilgrimage made in 1927.

"Strange Sea Mysteries" A volume of authentic mysteries of the sea which should interest the readers of that popular kind of story known in the library catalog as "mystery and crime." Here are true tales of ships and crews that have disappeared; of strange deeds on board ships; of unexplained and ill-omened ships, and even a chapter on the sea serpent. Another book about ships is "Fighting Merchantmen," tales of British ships in the 18th century.

"On a Paris Roundabout" A delightful account of life in Paris, written by Jan Gordon, the English artist who, with his wife, is one of the authors of the highly entertaining "Vagabond" travel books.

"Secrets of Effective Living" In this brief volume Rev. Gilkey endeavors to show how the modern man and woman, "baffled by inner problems, and outer difficulties," may live happily and effectively. How they may live without worry; how they may overcome limitations; and so build up a technique of living which will make for comfort and happiness.

"The Great American Band Wagon" This book, written in a tempo, is Mr. Charles Merritt's opinion of Americans and American life. He seems to think that we do as we do, not because life is so gay, but because it is so dull and drab.

"Passenger to Teheran" Recent travels of an Englishwoman, Victoria Saville-West, in Persia, Egypt and Russia.

"Statesman and Friend" A series of private letters written by John Adams to Benjamin Waterhouse during the period 1784 to 1822. Dr. Waterhouse was a man of advanced views in medicine and in politics and a wide range of subjects is covered in the correspondence.

"Authors and Others" Thumb-nail sketches of modern authors by

By MMR. LISBETH.

No wonder the modern woman looks slim and trim. Gone are the girdles, heavily boned corsets, drawers, and one or more petticoats of a bygone day. In their place is a single undergarment of silk, over which the short, often sheathlike dress slips easily and sets smartly.

And the colors? Virgin white was once the only choice of the really refined woman. Now lingerie shops are a riot of color, and black, once a sign of mourning, now fashions the tidiest of silken garments.

One such garment—the singlette—black glove silk, is pictured at the left above. It is particularly suited to the athletic girl or sportswoman, and emphasizes the slim lines of the wearer.

For the girl who does not want to wear a girdle next her skin an exception to the singlette is made, and there is the two-piece set, as nearly resembling the one-piece as possible. It consists of a vest with braaiers, top over which the girdle is worn. Breechette drawers with fitted yokes are slipped over it. These illustrated are pink glove silk.

Then there is the singlette in black glove silk trimmed with lace, a tailored bit of lingerie which Poiret, Paris couturier, exploited, and which combines two or three garments in one. Another version of the single garment, also lace trimmed, is pictured second from the right; and at the extreme right is shown minkie, shorn of her frock, enjoying her exercise in her silk singlette.

SERVICE STATION WILL BE ERECTED

H. D. Lane will soon erect a super service station on Barrett avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, according to a building permit issued this morning at the office of City Building Inspector Arthur J. Hurley.

Carl Overa will be the contractor, and the price of the work is $2,700.

Leo Persico was granted a permit to tear up a wooden flooring and replace it with cement, in a store building on Macdonald avenue, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. Fandy & Theis will handle the job for $300.

George D. Olson will construct a chicken house on Pullman avenue between State and Potrero avenues, the work to cost $200.

Permit to erect a one-car garage on Twenty-first street, between Roosevelt and Grant streets, for $100 was given to George M. Kendall.

Scottish Society To Hold Social

The St. Andrews society of Richmond will hold their monthly social evening on Wednesday, March 14, at the Richmond club house. President W. J. Macdonald and Roderick MacLennan are in charge of the program for the evening, and have something exceptionally good for the entertainment of the members and their friends. George Black is chairman of the refreshments committee, and Mac's orchestra will provide music for the dancing.

Annie Cooper. Among those included are: Ellen Glasgow, Selma Lagerlof, Mary Borden, Harold McGrath, Sax Rohmer and well-known artists such as C. B. Falls, Mattie Blaine and Charles Livingston Bull.

"Candle Days." The story of early American arts and implements by Marion Rawson is an entertaining account of life as it was lived during the candle-burning era, which will interest the collector as well as the general reader for it contains many illustrations of the implements of the time.

"The War Eastern Republic of Siberia." A not too detailed account of Siberia from the coming of the Russians to date. Mr. Norton includes four chapters on her present social, economic and political problems.

"Romantic California." A new and enlarged edition of Ernest Peixoto's book, first published in 1910. Contains many illustrations by the author who is famous as an etcher.

How About Your Eyes

Do you get drowsy and sleepy when reading? If so, you probably have eye-strain. See Dr. C. R. Blake, 629 Macdonald avenue, about it.

Those in the club are: John Benakir, Louis Perry, Richard Gottardi, Clark Tauscher, Eugene Norwall, James Traverso, Waldemar Reischelt, Arthur Rogers, Lloyd Showalter, Clyde Holbrook, Earl Cometa and Nello Bianchi.

Herbert L. Hume, faculty sponsor of the group, has had experience in building the miniature models, and is expected to be of material assistance to the boys.

DOUST MELLON IS DEMAND OF DEMOCRATS

testify fully before the senate investigating committee.

"What can be said of the standard of business integrity exemplified in the re-election of Stewart as chairman of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and of Sinclair as a director of the American Petroleum Institute?" he asked.

MELLON ADMITS FUND

Mellon had admitted that Hays, on behalf of the republican national committee, had sent him $50,000 of Sinclair bonds to convert into cash, but said he had returned the bonds, later making a $50,000 cash contribution to aid in clearing the republican campaign deficit.

"It was Mellon's public duty to speak out," Norris said. "He must have known that the naval reserves had been leased to Harry Sinclair and that criminal conspiracy cases had been instigated against the oil man. I cannot see how he could, in duty bound, remain silent while all these developments were occurring."

NORRIS WANTS ACTION

Norris also said he believed Mr. Coolidge should have acted as soon as he learned Mellon knew of the Sinclair contribution.

The senator intended to call the matter to the attention of the senate in a speech this afternoon, but a limited debate rule adopted on the pending Muscle Shoals resolution prevents any senator from speaking more than 15 minutes.

Norris said he might speak tomorrow.

HIGH HOOPERS ENJOY FINE SEASON

Basketball season of the Richmond high school was one of the most successful experienced in years. With 10 wins, and but two losses in high school competition, the record is one of the best since the days of Barberi and Dyer. The B team which was coached by Ernie Barberi, also had a successful season. Practically the same record was made by the basketball outfit. The B's also won the most of their games with but two losses.

PLENTY OF MATERIAL
Plenty of material was developed this season, some of which will return for basketball next year. Captain Kenny Swenson, Ray Melin and Clyde DeBaere will be the only players missing from the lineup next season. Other players who were in the thick of the fray were: Elden Hall, Charlie Jackson, Joe Baldwin, Sam Gordon and Arthur Neckle. All were stars on this year's basketball team and will be the shining lights of next year. Coach Ivan Hill used two sets of forwards in every game. DeBaere paired with Jackson, while Ray Melin had "Tuck" Hall for his running mate. The only thing that kept Sam Gordon on the bench was the need of a forward to work with. Two defeats were not so bad for the team, for both of them came in the most inopportune moments. The McClymonds game was held with scarcely any preliminary practice, and even at that it was close. The second defeat came at the hands of the Mission high team the day after the Christmas holidays when the boys were all out of condition.

B'S ALSO SUCCESSFUL
Ernie Barberi's B team also accomplished a great deal. All the boys were inexperienced and Barberi had to begin at the beginning in teaching the boys. Captain "Beesie" Marcos, and Tom McBride will be the only losses to the squad for next season. Dave Flynn and Joe Viano were a pair of fast moving centers who always managed to mix it up considerably while they were in the game. Marcos was the star scorer, however, and Hank Page was about second with a large number of points.

Risko Underdog Against Sharkey
Jack Sharkey, erstwhile pugilist from Boston, ruled a 12 to 5 favorite over Johnny Risko of Cleveland today, prior to their 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden for Tex Rickard tonight. If Sharkey wins the battle by a knockout, or even decisively, it is believed that he will get a shot at the "Tunney" crown during the summer.

CARMEN BEATEN BY LAUNDRYMEN

Richmond Carmen were defeated by the New Process Laundry by an 8-5 score yesterday morning at Bushrod park. Anderson started on the hill for the Carmen, but lack of practice sent him to the outfield in the sixth inning with no outs. Jack Pinto finished the game, and only allowed one hit without one run attached to it.

Walter Gordon was the fielding sensation of the game. Gordon turned in a perfect score at fielding and collected two hits for himself in the course of four trips to the pan. Klipple started a rally in the ninth when he crashed out a homer over the right field fence, but there was no one on base at the time. The other heavy hitter was Jack Pinto.

The Laundry win over the Carmen will probably give the former the championship.

HIGH TOSSERS PLAY SAINTS TOMORROW

Richmond high school baseball players will play their second game of the season tomorrow afternoon against the St. Mary's prep team. Doyle Taylor will probably start on the mound for the local high school, and Jack Pinto will take his turn in the outfield, saving his arm for later in the week, when another game will probably be played.

Frank Phillips, who has been playing in the garden, sliced his finger with a scythe over the week-end and will be out of the lineup for a week or two.

Coach Ivan Hill will probably start the following men: C. Pinto, 2b; Gordon, ss; J. Baldwin, lb; Swenson, rf; J. Pinto, lf; Muth, cf; Taylor, p; Rountree, if.

BALL LEAGUE HEADS WILL MEET TOMORROW

With the Maxwell Winter league pennant safely captured by the New Process Laundry team of Oakland, and only one game left in the Spalding league to determine the winner of the golfball in that circuit, the interest of fans will soon turn to the formation of summer baseball groups.

Tomorrow night, at the Maxwell Hardware company in Oakland, representatives of teams from throughout central and northern California will hold a huge pre-organization meeting.

San Pablo Garage and the Pullman Shop team of Richmond will be among the squads represented at the gathering, which will be called to order by Steve Graham, brother of Charley Graham, of the San Francisco Seals. Crockett is also sending a representative.

The famous Three-C league, which was headed last year by the Richmond Sannies, also victors in the Twilight league, will probably be reformed at the meeting. The Sannies have not yet made any signs of activity along horsehide lines this year.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS BASKETBALL FUTURE

Students of the local high school have every reason to be proud of the showing made by their basketball team during the 1927-1928 season.

CORBETT READY FOR ROBERTS AT ARMORY

(United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Young Corbett III, the fistie pride of Fresno, and Eddie Roberts, known as the "Tacoma Tagger," will clash here tonight at the state armory in the most important Pacific coast welterweight bout in many months.

The Fresno southpaw and the hard-hitting Tacoma are both striving for recognition as the coast's leading welter. Both have good records and both are experienced fighters.

Corbett, who recently shellacked Young Jack Thompson of Los Angeles in the first fight staged in the armory this year, remained today a favorite over the northerner. Both men rounded up their training yesterday and declared they were "ready."

At the ringside will be a number of Pacific coast notables, including Ace Hudkins, Jack Thompson, Sammy Baker, all ranking welters, and Art Goebel, winner of last summer's Hawaiian fight.

M'RAKENS WIN FROM FIDELITY

Led by the brilliant shooting ability of Gillan, the McRacken team was enabled to nose out the Fidelity club of San Francisco Saturday night by a score of 34 to 32, in a game played at the Roosevelt gym.

In a preliminary game the Community Methodists won 24 to 21 from the champions of the Modesto city league. An extra period was required to determine the winner.

McRackens—Forwards, J. Baldwin 10, Gray 4, Gillan 18; centers, Millevich, Santella 3; guards, Baldwin 5, Lane 2, McLaughlin, Theiste, Marley 14; centers, Bosch and Davernoy; guards, Nelson and Greely 2.

Richmond Community Methodists—Forwards, Lockwood, Johnson, Hillier; centers, Forman and Row-er; guards, Rowe, Forman, Redfield, Bennett.

Modesto Community Methodists—Forwards, Nyland, Konkist, Thomas and Kelly; centers, Reid, Allen; guards, Doe, Hitt, Morris, Nyland and Hill.

California teams, they were beaten by small scores.

Although the services of Captain Kenny Swenson, guard, Ray Melin and Clyde DeBaere, forwards, will be missed next year, there is an abundance of experienced and promising material returning, and even greater success should attend next year's schedule.

Washing machine advertisement reads: "Does your wife wash her- self? Chorus of husbands: 'Golly, we hope so.'"

HIGH CAPTAINS

Here we have Captain Kenny Swenson of the high school varsity basketball team. This is hardly a characteristic pose since Swenson's activities were limited to standing guard most of the time. Once in awhile, however, he would dribble up and fatten the score with a bucket. Swenson was the star of being one of the best standing guards around the bay, and the next year's squad will have a big hole in the guarding position with his graduation this spring.

THISTLES DEFEAT LOCAL SOCCERITES

Richmond's municipal soccer squad had their first victory over the Junior Thistles of San Francisco yesterday afternoon, losing by a count of 4 to 1. In the first game, played here several weeks ago, Richmond won 3 to 1. A third and deciding contest will be played within several weeks, it was announced by W. L. "Doc" Seawright this morning.

Next Sunday the soccer players will meet the Scandinavians of Oakland at Nicholl field at 2:30 o'clock, and the following Sunday will play the Petaluma Spartans here. It is expected that the Thistles will then follow on the schedule.

SAN PABLO WINS FROM RICHMOND

Willie Weskesser buried the San Pablo Garage nine to an 11 to 7 victory over the Richmond Carmen yesterday afternoon, in a practice contest played at San Pablo. The Carmen used Freitas and Ensign on the hillcock.

TENNIS SQUAD SWAMPED BY BERKELEY

Another crushing defeat was handed the Richmond Tennis club by the hands of the nation of the Berkeley Tennis club. L. S. Fish, number one player for the locals, was the only Richmond man able to win a match. In fact, no other Richmond player even won a set.

The loss yesterday apparently dooms the local squad to the cellar position for the rest of the interclub tourney, they having lost 17 matches in two weeks of club play, while winning but one. In practice matches earlier in the year the local players lost 20 matches to the Stockton players, while winning three.

Prospects looked good for Richmond yesterday in the first encounter on the program, when Fish downed the ranking Berkeley player, Hornsberger, in straight sets. But outside of Fish's showing, there was not a single ray of sunshine for the local players.

Next Sunday the Richmond players will journey to Fresno to complete their interclub schedule.

Men's singles:
L. S. Fish (R) def. Hornsberger (B) 6-3, 6-4.
Wright (B) def. Herman (R) 6-2, 6-1.

Johnson (B) def. Bryant (R) 6-2, 8-6.
